

life of the King The sanguinary Monster replied there is no way to accomplish it but one If Diu Fay the Kings favourite will deliver to me his son to kill and drink his blood as a ransom for the blood of the King the Kings life will be lengthened Diu Fay uttered a profound sigh but the bread and salt of his prince prevailed and he thought if the prince and Alive God may give us another son but when will we see so good a King Horrified and confounded he took the road to his house The Kings Messenger also heard what passed and returned to the city Diu Fay come to his house and awoke the prince who was sleeping with her Child in her arms Lady said he take your heart off this Child he is devoted to death for a pious purpose The prince waild and wept and besought her husband not to repeat so dreadful a speech He related to her the whole story adding be patient it is for a pious purpose that he must die he that gave us this will give us another besides the action will be celebrated
